APPREHEND MAN BELIEVED TO HAVE KILLED PETER J. KROMER

Reuben Warren Arrested at McKeesport for New Eagle Shooting

WOMAN RELATES HER STORY

Says Warren Confessed to Her His Connection With Crime— State Police Working up Case—Tight Net Woven About Man

Believed to have been the man who shot and killed Constable Peter J. Kromer, of New Eagle, on the evening of January 19 last, Reuben Warren was arrested Thursday at McKeesport, and today a net from which escape will be difficult is being thrown around him. He was arrested by two members of the state police, Peter Hovaney and T. J. Stroble, and under close guard was brought to Monongahela Thursday night by automobile. As usual, a woman figures in the late developments resulting in Warren's arrest.

Warren formerly lived in Monongahela, and at various times figured in cases in the local and county courts. He left about the time of the Kromer murder, and so far as is known had not been in Monongahela since.

About three weeks ago a woman by the name of Hurd was arrested together with Warren in McKeesport, following a ruction between the pair. Though thy had been intimate, the Hurd woman turned bitterly against him at this time, and her remarks to the police led to close questioning. She maintained that at various times Warren had confessed to her that he had murdered Kromer at New Eagle. She had scarcely if ever been in Monongahela, but showed complete knowledge of the killing of Kromer. She said that Warren had mentioned about the various arrests made after the killing, but had remarked that they never would get the right man until they got him.

Warren when arrested denied stoutly that he had ever told the Hurd woman anything. Then later he admitted that perhaps he had joked by telling her he had shot Kromer. He persisted that whatever he had said was a joke and nothing more. However, he was forced to admit that he had been in Monongahela on January 19, the night of the shooting, but could not clearly establish where he was between the hours of 7 and 8, when the shooting occurred.

Constable Kromer was killed while at the door of the home of William Bush, where he had gone supposedly to make an arrest. From what direction the shot came has never been fully ascertained, though the state police were of the opinion that it was fired from the outside. Within the house at the time was a woman by the name of Christina Conway, formerly of Charleroi and Harry Barton, formerly of Charleroi. Both these were arrested, together with William Bush, but the grand jury ignored a bill against them at the May term of court. They were either ignorant of the facts of the shooting, or else good actors.

What the state police and others working on the case will now seek to establish will be intimacy between Christina Conway and Warren at the time of the murder. This promises to be one of the important links in the chain.

Things look bad for Warren. A statement from the Hurd woman is in the hands of the police and she is anxious to give her testimony against him. It is likely he will be given a preliminary hearing and removed to the Washington county jail to await the action of the August grand jury.

ELEVEN COACHES USED BY ODD FELLOWS ON THEIR PICNIC TRIP

Monongahela Valley People Enjoying Outing Today—About 150 Go From Charleroi.

Eleven long coaches this morning were used by Monongahela Valley Odd Fellows for transporting the hundreds of Odd Fellows and their friends to Kennywood park. The occasion is the eighth annual picnic of Odd Fellows arranged under the auspices of the Monongahela Valley Picnic Association.

Baskets were taken for a big outing. The train left Roscoe about 8 o'clock, and reached Charleroi at 8:13, taking on about 150 people here. The program at the park includes a baseball game and various athletic contests this afternoon and other events of interest.

FUNERAL OF G. M. STEWART HELD

Rev. Burson Conducts Obsequies Over Body of Well Known Man

SERVICES ARE IMPRESSIVE

The funeral of George M. Stewart the well known warhouse man whose death occurred on Tuesday at the river, was held this afternoon at the late home at 137 McKean avenue.

Rev. John R. Burson pastor of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church of which denomination Mr. Stewart was a member, conducted the services at 2 o'clock. The body was taken to Monongahela for interment in the Monongahela cemetery.

The services were impressive. The bier was decorated by beautiful floral tributes from friends.

NORTH CHARLEROI COUNCIL FAILS TO HOLD MEETING

Some of the members of North Charleroi council were unable to appear at the scheduled time for a meeting Thursday evening and there being no quorum there was no meeting. Some of the councilmen are absent on their vacation. Probably the next meeting will be held the first Monday night of August, when Tom P. Sloan the newly appointed councilman will be sworn in.

THAW FREED BUT STILL IS UNDER OBLIGATIONS

Harry Kendall Thaw was freed today at noon at New York when Justice Hendrick signed the order releasing Justice Hendrick's original commitment of the slayer of Stanford White to Matteawan. However, his freedom carried with it obligations which have been taken by the attorney general of New York state, which means $40,000 bail bond for Thaw.

Thaw will leave for Pittsburg, where he will spend some time at the Thaw home at Beechwood boulevard. Then he will begin a roundabout trip to California. Thaw has been approached by many automobile firms requesting him to use their make of machine in his cross-country trip.

BIG GOOD ROADS' RALLY PLANNED FOR JULY 29

Highway Commissioner Cunningham And Others Expected to Come to Uniontown to be Present at Summit House Meeting.

What is expected to be the greatest good roads demonstration ever held in the history of Western Pennsylvania, is to be held on Thursday, July 29, at the Summit House, the famous mountain hostelry, located in Fayette county, near Uniontown, under the auspices of the National Old Trails Road association, that is boosting an ocean-to-ocean highway which will include all the historic old trails and thoroughfares.

It is planned that State Highway Commissioner R. J. Cunningham be one of the assemblage and secure his cooperation in the improving of the National pike from the West Virginia state line to the Maryland line, some sections of which are now being repaired by corps of state highway employes. Maryland has improved every foot of the famous old highway and Ohio and other states are greatly in advance of Pennsylvania in the movement.

The big rally at Summit House on July 29 is for the purpose of interesting Pennsylvanians in the laudable project and take steps for the raising of funds and formulation of plans for the immediate reconstruction of the highway. Daughters of the American Revolution, the national organization has enthusiastically endorsed the idea of the National Old Trail Road association and is expected to take an active part in the promotion of the coming demonstration.

GARWOOD MINE STARTS OPERATIONS THIS WEEK

Workings Near Brownsville Start After Suspension of Year and Half—One Mine Yet Dormont In Up-River District.

Official information was given out Thursday evening of the resumption of the Garwood mine of the Etna Connellsville Coke company after a suspension of work for the past year and a half.

A number of men have been working during the past two weeks in cleaning the mine and doing repair work, getting things in running shape. There the 119 coke ovens at this plant and when running full capacity over 100 men are given work. Those seeking employment should inquire of C. L. Patterson superintendent of the plant.

With this mine operating, only one plant in the vicinity of Brownsville remains dormant, and rumors current yesterday were that this plant located on the eastern borough limit of Brownsville, would likely start the latter part of next week.

IMPORTANT SCHOOL LAW RECENT LEGISLATIVE ACT

Certain Property May be Turned Over to Common School Purposes by Decision of Boards.

County Superintendent L. R. Crumrine has just received a copy of a law which was passed by the last legislature, which is of interest to all school districts throughout the state.

It provides that the trustees of any academy or seminary in this state, which received money or land therefrom for educational purposes, are authorized and empowered to convey, by deed of not less than two-thirds of their number to be approved by the court, all real estate, buildings, property and funds of the institution, to the common school district in which the main building is situated.

The property so conveyed is to be used by the school district for common school education or if so designated in the deed, the lands or their equivalent value, shall be devoted to the establishment and maintenance of an industrial school in which instruction shall be given in manual training, husbandry and domestic science and for no other purpose. It also provides that pupils from any other part of the county in which the school is situated may attend by paying a tuition, which is the actual cost per pupil to the district.

The trustees may with the approval of the court convert the whole or part of the assets of the academy or seminary into cash upon condition that the principal remain in tact and only the income be used for such instruction.

ONE TRAGEDY AND TWO SERIOUS ACCIDENTS IN MONESSEN REGION

Webster Man Takes Carbolic Acid After Losing Wife, Money and Nerve

CHILDREN INJURED IN FALL

Five Have Tumble When Bannister Breaks and One is Seriously Hurt—Jitney Bus Goes Over an Embankment.

Five children were injured, one seriously, when a bannister broke at Monessen, a jitney bus went over an embankment on the Webster road and the driver was injured seriously and a Webster man committed suicide all on Thursday.

The children injured when the bannister broke were Katherine Mondock, aged 7 who sustained injuries to her head, had her wrist broken and was probably internally injured; Ella Kern, aged 6, who sustained a broken left shoulder and bruises; Herman Putnam, aged 6 who sustained bruises and cuts; Mary Zust and Julia Zust, both of whom suffered bruises about the head and body. They fell about 15 feet to a concrete walk.

The jitney bus driven by Tagger Pasquali between Webster and Monessen went over an embankment Pasquali was injured, but none of the five passengers were hurt.

Joseph Dealer of Webster is dead having taken carbolic acid Thursday evening. Dealer's wife died some time ago. Then he lost his money and after that lost his nerve. Three children survive.

SENDING OF LARGER PARCELS BY MAIL IS MADE POSSIBLE

Size Limit Increased From 72 to 84 Inches—Receipt System to be Inagurated.

The sending of larger parcels is made possible through a new parcel post ruling, which has just gone into effect. The size limit of the package to be sent has been increased from a total length and girth of 72 to 84 inches. This 84 inches is the combined distance around the package both ways. The increase of 12 inches will allow a considerably larger parcel to be sent.

After September 1 a recipt for a parcel post package will be given in exchanged for an extra penny. The scheme is simply one to increase the safeguarding of the parcel to be sent and to give the department an aid toward the tracing of the package if it should go astray.

GOOD REPORT AT LOCAL HOSPITAL

Superintendent Tells of Operations at Charleroi-Monessen Institution

DOCTORS MAKE MANY VISITS

The condition of the Charleroi-Monessen hospital during the month of June was reported to the directors for the institution at their meeting this week by the superintendent, Miss Genevieve Dahy. One of the features was the total number of visits made by physicians and surgeons.

The following was the statistical report:

Number patients first of June	10
Number admitted in June	39
Number of emergency cases	6
Number of operations	26
Number of deaths	1
Number of medical cases	9
Number of surgical cases	30

Number of visits by physicians and surgeons—173.

Mrs. John O'Brien of the Monessen Ladies' Auxiliary reported the net proceeds of a recent Victrola sale were $347, and further reported that $220 had been expended for a kitchen range and kitchen equipment for the hospital.

Acknowledgment was made to Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Daly, for eight sheets and one table cloth; to the Charleroi Christian church, for flowers, to Dr. Hawkins for flowers, to Mrs. Hartstein of Donora for eggs and the Charleroi W. C. T. U. for flowers.

A HOT WEATHER HOMILY

At no time is it advantageous to compel one's stomach to entertain alcoholic beverages. This is not the dictum of a prohibition crank but the unprejudiced verdict of scientific investigation, says the Altoona Tribune. There is not a reputable physician in the land—no matter what his personal habits—who will take the ground that alchohol is beneficial to the human system.

Some very fine men however, decline to practice total abstinence. They do not laud and magnify the liquids they consume and they are very cautious during the heated term. They know very well that excess in drinking is injurious at any time and particularly so when the theremometer is ranging among the high figures. And so they become total abstainers during July and August.

Thus it is held that total abstinence from intoxicants is a good thing for body and mind at any time, but particularly desirable in the summer. There is always an excessive mortality among drunkards when the dog star rages. Ask the family doctor what he thinks about it if you are anxious to get further information although probably your own good sense will be sufficient.

Too much ice water, especially when one is over-heated, is frequently even more fatal in its effects upon the human system than alcoholic beverages. How many sudden deaths have been traced to excessive use of ice water by persons who were very warm and very thirsty! The truth is that no extremely cold beverage is a health promoter. The stomach is a much abused organ.

Steady employment is not a drawback to positive enjoyment during the heated term. On the contrary, one who is busy about congenial work forgets the heat in his absorption in the duties of the hour. One of the worst things one can do in excessively warm weather is to consult the thermometer every half hour. No good comes of it. It is a vicious and a harmful practice. Open pores are a great aid in keeping comfortable this July.

In short the person who keeps in a good humor, maintains a tranquil temper, refuses to be worried by any of life's carking cares, has the good fortune to be fond of his work or to be able to loaf and enjoy his soul in the days of blazing suns, abhors alcoholic drinks, takes ice water and other cold beverages with caution and keeps on the shady side of the street will do well.

Doctors of the river section of three counties are planning their first outing together next Tuesday. And as doctors are much the same as other folk, they will probably enjoy a good time and a needed day's vacation. In addition they will get a chance to meet and learn the views of one another. One man can always learn something from another. Intimate association is a good thing. Some man needs the views of the other class, and one doctor to get the best out of his work and his life needs to know what his neighbor in his own town is thinking about.

The announcement that square dancing may be revived tends to prove that truly "there is nothing new on earth." We have been shocked at it, we can't be shocked any more. With the tango, turkey trot, Texas tommy, hesitation waltz, fox trot, and Egyptian Argyle, so how it appears we are returning to grandfather's and grandmother's first love. So far as plain, every day, common sense dancing is concerned, we shouldn't wonder either, if it isn't about the best dance available for present day dancing as well as the most enjoyable.

Grasshoppers and hundred garden field pests are hard on crops and trees, so Dr. H. A. Surface suggests a way to get rid of them. His formula is simple, consisting only of the acquirement of turkeys or other fowls. These fowls are fond of grasshoppers, Dr. Surface says, so the sooner the turkey roosts are enlarged the better off the orchardists and produce men may expect to be.

Numerous bathing beaches are being established at various points along the Monongahela river, following Charleroi's example. The right theory is, if you please, that when you cannot enjoy the seashore, you can enjoy the river shore.

Honestly we're jealous, jealous of Monongahela. Monongahela is to have a fine soldiers' monument and Charleroi is to have none. But Monongahela has been living for nearly a century to get it, so we have hopes.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Upon a visit to a neighboring town recently a Charleroi man found it necessary to ask his way to "1104 Fourth avenue." A woman of apparent refinement was most convenient, so he asked directions of her.

"Can you tell me where is 1104," he asked.

She shook her head. "Me no know, I wasn't home today," she replied with foreign accents.

Young Arthur, the pride of the family, had been attending school all of six weeks and his devoted parent thought it was high time he should find out how things were running. So he asked one afternoon:

"And what did my little son learn about this morning?"

"Oh, a mouse. Miss Wilcox told us all about mouses."

"That's the boy. Now how do you spell mouse?"

It was then that Arthur gave promise of being an artful dodger. He paused meditatively for a moment then said:

"Father, I guess I was wrong. It wasn't a mouse teacher was telling us about. It was a rat."—Harper's Magazine.

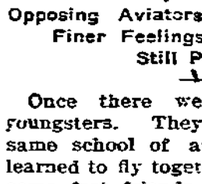
MRS. BEIDEL TELLS WOMEN

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health for 14 Years.

Shippensburg, Pa.—"It was several years ago that I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I then suffered terribly every month. My husband bought me a bottle of it and it helped me right away. Then after my second child was born I had a female trouble very badly and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in a short time was cured and have been in excellent health since. I always praise the Compound whenever I have an opportunity as I know it helped me and will help others. Lately I have given the Compound to my daughter and I wish all suffering women would take it and be convinced of its worth."—Mrs. JAMES A. BEIDEL, 113 N. Penn Street, Shippensburg, Pa.



Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

CHIVALRY NOT YET DEAD

Opposing Aviators Prove That the Finer Feelings of Humanity Still Prevail.

Once there were two airmen—youngsters. They had attended the same school of aviation, they had learned to fly together. They had become fast friends. Then came the war. One of them was German. He went off to give his services to the emperor. The other was a Frenchman. He joined a French flying corps—and when he went about his business of scouting up aloft his constant fear was that he might find, up there in the clouds, his friend and schoolmate. As a matter of fact the first time he sighted a Taube he knew by the way it was handled who it was that steered it. The German recognized not less quickly the flight of the Frenchman. Both hesitated—swinging in great circles. Then duty was too strong for friendship; they charged each other. No, friendship was stronger after all—as the Frenchman was about to strike the German he tipped his left wing perilously and glided past almost on edge. The German did exactly the same thing—and each flew back to his own lines.

Perhaps, says the Frenchman who tells this pretty tale, chivalry, which in this grim war of machines has survived on the sea in the person of the gallant captain of the Emden, has found refuge in the air.

ASSERTS TONSILS HAVE USE

St. Louis Physician Makes a Protest Against the Too Free Use of the Knife.

Doctor Ewing, a St. Louis physician, has raised a voice of protest against the surgical propensity for the use of the knife on the tonsils. For a long time it was the vermiform appendix which was only in the way, but lately, owing perhaps to a growing incredulity in the public mind, surgery has turned more to the tonsil as the superfluous thing which is capable of doing a great deal of harm and absolutely incapable of doing any good.

Doctor Ewing insists that the tonsils make a nesting place for the phagocytes, that class of good microbes which get into the blood to fight great battles there with the bad microbes which infest our systems. The tonsils, says Doctor Ewing, are recruiting stations at which the phagocyte armies are enlisted and from which they march away to fight for our lives. If we remove the tonsils out of the rising generation the rising generation may be left without phagocytes to fight their battles for them, and will fall victims to the armies of evil microbes which will then attack them unresisted.

An Open Letter to the Officials of This Community

Gentlemen:—

Governor Frank B. Willis, of Ohio, last April said:

"A mud hole, the bad road and the high cost of living usually go together. Let us eliminate all these undesirable features by constructing better roads and BY KEEPING THEM IN REPAIR AFTER THEY ARE CONSTRUCTED."

He is RIGHT. And he might have added that a dusty, ill-kept road is a MENACE to the health and happiness of the community through which it runs.

It depreciates property values—it prevents the growth of your town—it takes away from the prosperity of your merchants—it is a blot on the fair name of your town.

Every time an automobile goes whirling by it raises a cloud of dust that settles like a pall of gloom on porches, curtains, furniture, carpets, the day's washing, making work for the good housewives.

They and their children breathe this dust-polluted atmosphere. Their HEALTH is imperiled.

It is not the intention of this letter to state where the RESPONSIBILITY lies for the poor condition of any road.

But it can be emphatically stated that it is the DUTY of every official elected by the people to bend every EFFORT toward the CONSTRUCTION and MAINTENANCE of better roads.

You owe it to your fellow citizens who have put their TRUST in you for the proper handling of municipal affairs—who look to you for the GREATEST RETURN for the taxes they pay.

It is up to YOU to remove this menace—to open the way for a hustling, progressive community.

The time to do it is NOW.

Do not stop because your financial budget is made up for the coming year. Talk to your fellow citizens and get their views on this question of discomforting, dangerous dust.

As town officials, start the movement yourself for better kept roads.

YOU CAN EASILY SECURE THEM.

Right at this moment The Atlantic Refining Company of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh is at work in every county of this state, with a big fleet of auto trucks and wagon distributors oiling or resurfacing hundreds of miles of State roads.

This company is under contract with the State and their road experts are CO-OPERATING with county engineers.

One of them is now in this vicinity.

If you will write The Atlantic Refining Company it will have this expert get in touch with you. He can explain how much this work will cost, how ECONOMICALLY it can be done, how EASILY and QUICKLY it can be ACCOMPLISHED, how to raise the money to make this improvement possible.

Remember your DUTY to your fellow citizens. This matter is vital to their SAFETY and PROSPERITY.

AMONG THE THEATRES

PALACE—CHARLEROI

The usual program of good pictures was shown at the Palace during the past week. On Monday the chief attraction was the four reel special released on the Alliance program. This was "The Painted World," an intense drama portraying the life of a young girl whose parents were stage people. Another good feature shown Monday was "The Missing Man" a story of the west. On Wednesday William Elliott was featured in "Woman and Wine" the leading attraction of the week was the vaudeville program which was headed by the Welsh Trio from "The Land of Song." This was an especially pleasing feature of the program. The Welsh Trio appeared at the Schenley in Pittsburg last week. The "Musical Zonettes" were presented in a comedy and musical number and Barney Mack a black face comedian of ability concluded the program. Announcement is being made of "The Boss" which will be shown at the Palace next Wednesday.

MAJESTIC—CHARLEROI.

With Edith Storey and Leo Delaney in the featuring roles one of the best productions this week at the Majestic theatre was that of "The Island of Regeneration," a Vitagraph masterpiece in six reels. The story was one of compelling interest and the all star cast presented it in splendid style. This show was the big attraction Wednesday. On Monday "Vendetta," a drama adapted from Marie Corelli's famous novel, was produced in five parts. "Who Pays?" was a production of exceptional interest on Tuesday. It was a three part piece that was staged magnificently in a way to bring out the really strong story. Thursday was a big day with "The Diamond From the Sky" ninth chapter, "A Runaway Match," was the feature. Charlie Chaplin was shown in comedy, and there was another good comedy, "Cohen's Luck." Next week's program includes good attractions.

COYLE—CHARLEROI

During the past week a number of excellent photoplays were presented at the Coyle theatre. William Farnum was featured in "The Plunderer" on Monday. This was a drama reproduced from the book of the same name. Blanche Sweet the ever popular actress enacted the leading role in "Stolen Goods," a Paramount shown Tuesday. "My Best Girl" was the title of an excellent picture in which Max Figman and Lois Meredith appeared on Wednesday. The Paramount shown Thursday was "A Wild Goose Chase," this was an amusing and interesting story of two young people for whom a marriage had been arranged by their grandparents. On Friday Florence Reed was starred in "Her Own Way" a five part Metro picture. Announcement is being made of "Always in the Way' a five part picture to be s hown next Wednesday.

Message No. 6

A young doctor, making a start in a small town, decided that to be prosperous he must look prosperous. He bought a new buggy and two good horses. Although he had only a few patients he always kept on the jump, attending to his patients' smallest needs. People began to notice this young doctor driving about town and they called him because he looked busy and prosperous. He got his start—a start that led to a comfortable practice.

A town, like this doctor, must look prosperous to be prosperous.

Clean streets, attractive store windows, well-painted buildings and dwellings give the prosperous air. Well-painted buildings are greatest of these.

FINALLY GOT HIS INTERVIEW

Death of James Creelman Recalls Remarkable Exploit of Newspaper Man.

James Creelman's death in Germany while still in the prime of life recalls an exploit of which any newspaper reporter might be proud, observes the Wall Street Journal. He was in London at the time of the Baring crisis in 1890, and performed the unheard-of feat of securing for the New York Herald an exclusive interview with the governor of the Bank of England.

It is a matter of history how the governor, the right Hon. William H. Lidderdale, handled that crisis. He lived to see the Barings successfully liquidated and stronger than ever, with the financial situation in Argentina restored, the £3,000,000 gold which he borrowed by means of acceptances from the Bank of France returned in due course with the seals of the packages unbroken. The London market was tided over a desperate emergency with the minimum of disturbance, although there were some forty failures in the stock exchange.

Lidderdale died not long ago, leaving an estate valued at only £2,000. He was a strong man and an honest one. But the idea of interviewing him was so remote that only an irreverent American would have thought of it. Creelman had no pass key or letters of introduction. He simply went to the Bank of England, and starting with the astonishing "beadle," worked his way up. He was sent from department to department, to the secret amusement of various heads, until he actually found himself in the presence of the governor.

But the joke failed to explode. Lidderdale was a long-headed Scotchman, much too intelligent not to see the value of publicity at such a time. He was no slave to precedent. He gave Creelman an excellent interview of a frank and reassuring character, which was published in the following Sunday's New York Herald. It was a great scoop; and the London papers spent money frantically on cable toll getting facts on their own situation from New York for their Monday morning issue.

A precedent was set, and since that time English financiers have been more approachable. It may be said also that publicity there, as in Wall street, has done much to clean up admitted evils, and to set honest finance right with public opinion. The story is well worth recalling, for it has an obvious moral which should never be forgotten.

New Telegraph Code.

A new form of code chart for simplifying the teaching of the Continental telegraph code has been evolved by a Chicago inventor. In place of the usual method of representing the different telegraphic equivalents for letters and figures in the form of dots and dashes, the characters are indicated by small and large letters or figures; the former representing the dots and the latter the dashes. For instance, the letter "A" is represented as "a A," meaning dot dash. The letter "B" is shown as "B bbb" or dash dot dot dot. Thus, by this simple method, the inventor has eliminated the great confusion arising from the dash-dot representations of the various characters. The letters and figures are fixed in the memory of the student as large and small characters instead of in the form of a complicated mass of letters, figures and combinations of dots and dashes. It is stated that this chart has greatly simplified the learning of the code.

New Subterranean Fauna.

Deep mines present conditions likely to evolve a new subterranean fauna from animals accidentally imprisoned and having sufficient endurance to survive the change. At a depth of 750 feet in a mine of the Midlothian Coalfield, Scotland, Dr. James Ritchie has found 13 animal forms, and he concludes that many others may be carried into deep underground workings. These animals were away from any ventilating shaft reaching the surface, the main shaft being a quarter of a mile distant. They are supposed to have been introduced mostly on the props of Norwegian fir and with the horse fodder, but some may have been drawn in by the suction of the ventilating fans. The species noted were the common mouse, the brown rat, the house sparrow, the great slug, a small spider, two beetles, two flies, the springtail or pit flea, two earthworms and a mycetozoon on the pit props.

Reason for Drier in Paint.

The linseed oil in paint naturally resists the drying effect of the atmosphere, and because of this it is necessary to add something to the paint mixture to overcome the resistance. Drier is prepared for this purpose, its function being to absorb oxygen rapidly and convert the film into a hard, insoluble product. During this process the linseed oil is changed into linoxyn, and the drier continues its oxidation until the paint film is eventually destroyed.

Drier is made by adding salts to a certain amount of linseed oil which is heated up to about 500 degrees F. The temperature is allowed to drop and turpentine or a mixture of turpentine and benzine added.

Domestic Discipline.

"I'd like to see you one of those marching suffragettes."

"Would you? Then just come out to the parade where I'm one of the marshals, and object, if you dare."

"My, dear, didn't I just say I'd like to see you?"

Many Recoveries From Lung Trouble

Eckman's Alterative has restored to health many sufferers from lung trouble. Read what it did in this case:

Wilmington, Del.

"Gentlemen:—In January, 1905, I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs. My physician, a leading practitioner, said that it was lung trouble. I got very weak. C. A. Lippincott, of Lippincott's Department Store, Wilmington, Del., recommended Eckman's Alterative that had done great good. I began taking it at once. I continued faithfully, using no other remedy, and finally noticed the clearing of the lungs. I now have no trouble with my lungs. I firmly believe Eckman's Alterative saved my life." (Abbreviated.)

(Affidavit) JAS. SQUIRES.

Eckman's Alterative is most effective in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and upbuilding the system. Contains no narcotic or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Small size $1, regular size, $2. Sold by leading druggists. Write for booklet of recoveries.

SENSATION AROUSED BY CASE FROM THE HILL

Sensation was caused Thursday evening and an investigation was put under way, when the body of a babe was exhumed by the police from the yard of a dwelling at 829 Crest avenue, where a few days ago arrests were made by three women for conducting a disorderly house and of two men as visitors. The police are conducting the investigation.

Mrs. Mamie Bell, who lives at the house this morning went before a notary public and in as worn statement said that a woman by the name of Ada Sadler came to her home as a visitor on July 5 and remained there for the night. On Tuesday, July 6, it is asserted in the statement the Sadler woman performed an abortion.

The act was unknown to Mrs. Bell, she declared, but after the incident, she called for Dr. V. P. Vieslet at 8 o'clock in the morning. He was unable to attend the woman until 11 o'clock, when he arrived at the house.

What will be done is a question. Ada Sadler has left town. Who buried the infant is not known, but according to people of the neighborhood it was one of the women. Residents of the neighborhood summoned the police, who exhumbed and took charge of the body.
